Published by FCC in conjunction with the Archdeaconry of London

In the coming weeks among the many services and events taking place in the City churches there is one of particular interest. At St Mary Abchurch on Wednesday 14 November at 3.00pm a special service of Evensong will be taking place. At that service, close to the centenary of the 1918 Armistice, the new Bishop of London, The Right Reverend and Right Honourable Dame Sarah Mullaly will dedicate a war memorial inscribed with the names of the fallen of both world wars who worked at Joseph Travers and Sons Limited. The large bronze memorial, which was discovered in the crypt of St Mary Abchurch, is being rehung in the tower of the church.

When the memorial was first discovered it presented something of a mystery. It bears the names of 49 men (38 from World War 1 and 11 from World War 2). Across the top are the letters JTS and the date 1666. The Trustees of the Friends asked for volunteers to research the memorial and the men whose names are commemorated. Three members of the Friends of the City Churches came forward and after much research they discovered that the memorial belonged to a company of wholesale grocers called Joseph Travers and Sons Ltd, whose headquarters had been in Cannon Street close to the church, and who claimed a founding date of 1666. Essentially the firm was a forerunner of today's multi-national companies and at its zenith it was one of the largest wholesale grocers in the world with branches in Singapore, Malaya, Borneo and later South Africa. At one stage they had their own fleet of schooners to import tea, coffee, sugar, dried fruits, spices and groceries, as well as wine and spirits. The ships raced other competing firms 'tea clipper' style, and considered themselves to be rivals to the East India Company. There is evidence that the company were enlightened employers, the staff having pensions, paid sick leave and other benefits long before these were legislated for. However, the fortunes of the company were very seriously affected by the destruction of their warehouse in St Katharine Docks and their spice mills in Wapping in the London Blitz during World War 2. The loss of valuable and irreplaceable commodities inevitably contributed to the decline of the company. Post-war mergers and takeovers saw the eventual demise of the original family company.

Concerning the names on the memorial, research by the Friends team into the military and civil records of the men and regimental histories and war diaries revealed how disparate were their origins, lives and deaths, reflecting the company's world-wide commercial interests. In only three cases was it not possible to identify the casualty positively. Many of these men are remembered elsewhere, but for some this is their sole memorial in the UK. Most interestingly, one man, Albert Pearce, was originally not recognized as a war casualty by the Commonwealth War Graves Commission (CWGC). However, as a result of the researches of the Friends team, he has since been accepted as official war dead, and commemorated by the recent erection of a headstone for him in Abney Park Cemetery, Stoke Newington, the headstone being of the iconic design to be seen in all CWGC cemeteries. The full biography of this most interesting memorial has been written up in a booklet which is now available.

The Service of Dedication of the memorial on Wednesday 14 November promises to be a memorable occasion and the Friends of the City Churches are honoured that their new patron Bishop Sarah will be officiating. All Friends and members of the public are most warmly invited to attend. We would ask those who wish to attend to contact the office of the Friends on 020 7626 1555 or at: contact\_us@london-city-churches.org.uk since refreshments will be provided after the service.

By relating back to past examples of restored buildings that have fallen victim to human destruction, in places such as Ypres, Warsaw, and Dresden, Dan will explore what meaning reconstructed buildings can have. Is it possible for dead buildings to live again? Is it possible for Palmyra to live again?

The Annual Lion Sermon

Guest speaker: Paul Sinton-Hewitt CBE
Founder of parkrun

Music will be performed by a chamber group from Lloyd's Choir

The Lion Sermon is an annual sermon preached on a Thursday on or near 16 October at the City church of St Katharine Cree. The sermon commemorates the memory of Sir John Gayer (or Gayre), (1564 – 1649). He was a Cornishman who became Lord Mayor of London in 1646. He was also a Governor of the East India Company and briefly imprisoned in the Tower of London for his Royalist sympathies. Apparently while travelling on a trading mission in Arabia – modern-day Syria – he became separated from his travelling companions and was stalked by a lion. Sir John prayed for assistance and the lion left him unharmed on account of his devout prayers and vows of charity. The story tells us that his travelling companions discovered Sir John sleeping in the desert next morning surrounded by the footprints of the lion. In gratitude for his deliverance he endowed the City church of St Katharine Cree with a fund for a sermon to be preached by an eminent guest on the theme of 'challenges to the Christian faith'. Sir John died in 1649 and is buried in the church. His commemorative brass is to be found on the floor behind the altar.
